

Dr. Lajos Hanzó is a Fellow of the Royal Academy of Engineering (FREng), FIEEE, FIET and a EURASIP Fellow, Foreign Member of the Hungarian Academy of Science. He holds honorary Doctorates from the University of Edinburgh and the Technical University of Budapest. He co-authored 19 IEEE Press - JohnWiley books and 1970 research contributions at IEEE Xplore. For further information on his research in progress and associated publications please refer to IEEE Xplore.